

THE JEWISH THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY OF AMERICA.
831-835 WEST ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-THIRD STREET.
NEW YORK CITY.

June 21, 1905.

My dear Professor Goldziher:

It gives me much pleasure to extend to you, on behalf of the Directors of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, our invitation to come to this country and deliver a Course of Lectures on Jewish Philosophy during the next academic year (1905-1906). The remuneration granted will be one thousand ($1,000) dollars. The Course is to consist of eight lectures and to be given in this Institution, and repeated at the Gratz College, in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, two hours journey from this city. You may choose any season in the year between November and the beginning of May. In May, people here begin to leave for the country, while the Institutions of learning are busy conducting their examinations.

The reason for the delay of this letter was that the Board of Trustees of Gratz College, at Philadelphia, meets so rarely. The language in which the lectures are to be given can be German, if you prefer it.

I dearly hope that you will see your way to accept this invitation, and honor us with your visit in the near future. I am quite sure that the sea-voyage would only prove beneficial to your health, whilst you may rely upon it that we shall make your stay in this country as pleasant as possible.

With kind regards, I am,

Yours very sincerely,

Professor Doctor Ignaz Goldziher,
Budapest,
VII Hollo utca 4,
Hungary.
